3 AUTO THIEVES CAPTURED HERE

Sheriff Jones, Police and Posse of Farmers Round up Indianapolis Men West of Here

STOLEN CAR IS WRECKED

Alleged Thieves Arouse Suspicion When They Leave Machine—Taken to Indianapolis

A thrilling search extending over several miles of territory ended Sunday afternoon shortly after dinner, in the arrest of three young men, who gave their address as Indianapolis, after the machine in which they were riding upset near the Leu O'Neal residence, just west of here.

The three young men arrested were Fred Carson, age 19; Jack Edwards, age 20, and Harry Miller, age 22. The automobile in which they were riding, it was learned today, belonged to William D. Cox of Danville, Ind., and was taken from the street in Indianapolis on Saturday.

The three were riding west on the Indianapolis pike yesterday morning about eleven o'clock, when in front of the O'Neal residence, the car struck fresh gravel, and turned turtle, throwing the three occupants clear of the machine.

They immediately ran across the field, going north to the W. A. Alexander farm, and the suspicions of the O'Neal family were aroused and they summoned the police and sheriff and the search began of the surrounding territory.

The police, Sheriff Jones, Samuel Finney and a posse of several farmers gave search, and they were rounded up after a long chase extending several miles. The officers finally halted them when they opened fire on them, and finding that the officers meant to shoot, they gave up.

The three told conflicting stories about renting a machine from an Indianapolis garage, but this was found to be untrue, and the police at Indianapolis this morning were called in an effort to find out if any machine had been stolen, and a list of all cars in that city within the past several days was given Sheriff Jones, and the car here was included in the bunch.

The police officers at Indianapolis came here this afternoon and took the three to that city to answer to a charge of vehicle taking.

The machine was almost completely demolished and several hundred dollars will be required to repair it. Mr. Cox, the owner, also informed the sheriff here this morning that he would arrive this afternoon and take charge of his machine.

Four local girls identified these young men as being the same ones

REVIEWS WAR DEAD OF THE UNITED STATES

President Harding Places Wreath on One of 5,212 Coffins in Ceremony at Hoboken Pier

"THIS MUST NOT BE AGAIN"

(By United Press)
New York, May 23.—There was a review of the nation's war dead by the president of the United States today. While a band played a dirge, President Harding with bowed head walked slowly through the long aisle formed by 5,212 caskets containing the bodies of American soldiers brought home from France. The scene on the gloomy pier at Hoboken was very impressive as the chief executive passed down the ranks of flag-draped coffins to the sombre beat of muffled drums.

"There are a hundred thousand sorrows touching on my own heart," he said in his eulogy, "and I hear the admonition ringing there—this must not be again. This must not be again."

After the speech the president placed a wreath on the casket of Joseph Geiger of Harte, Michigan, a member of Company I, 126th Infantry, who was the first American killed on German soil.

COUNTY CONVENTION IS SET FOR JULY 4

Sunday Schools Will Hold Meeting at Coliseum Here—State Officers Are Coming

COMMITTEES MEET THURSDAY

Plans were being made today for a county convention of all of the Sunday schools in Rush county, which will be held here on July 4. This announcement was made today by Gates Ketchum, county superintendent of the association.

It is being planned to have the meeting in the coliseum at the city park, and it will be an all day affair, terminating with a monstrous parade at night. Every Sunday school in Rush county will be invited to participate, and a meeting is announced for Thursday night at eight o'clock at the office of Mr. Ketchum, at which time each Sunday school is urged to have a representative present.

The last county convention was held at the Walnut Ridge church, west of Carthage. An effort will be made to have the one here July 4, except all others for attendance and entertainment. Officers of the State Sunday School association will be here and several prominent speakers will be on the program, which will be arranged later.

"FRAME-UP" TO BE PLEA OF DEFENSE

Kirk's Attorneys in Perjury Trial Intimate by Questions What They Will Charge

STATE HAS NOT FINISHED

Wilbur Spivey Testifies Defendant Offered Him $50 Not to Testify He Saw Kirk After 11:30

The case of the State against Shirley Kirk was still under way today in the circuit court, the defendant standing trial on a charge of perjury, and as the case continued it was plainly to be seen that the defense will maintain throughout the trial that the entire charge is a frame-up by friends of Caron against the accused.

Intimation after intimation of this was brought out as the state witnesses were being examined. The fact that several of the witnesses were Catholics and belonged to the Knights of Columbus organization, the same as Caron, strongly bore out the fact that the defense would make such a pleading that the case was a "frame-up."

The state will probably finish this afternoon with their portion of the evidence, and it is very likely that the greater portion of tomorrow will be used by the defense for the introduction of evidence.

Among those who testified today were Dale Jackson, A. H. Sutton, Fred Woods, James Tarplee, Harry Beaver, Mike Cleary, Bryce Stoops and Earl Osborne. Most of these witnesses did not testify at the former trial.

The case was resumed this morning, after the state had examined several witnesses Saturday, following the testimony of Lester Caron. Wilbur Spivey was among those who testified Saturday afternoon late, and he related that Kirk attempted to give him $25 if he would say that he saw him around 11:30 the night of the robbery instead of 1:15.

Spivey said that he and Jerry Sullivan were going home on the night of the robbery and near the M. E. church Kirk passed them, which according to the witness, was near 1:15 in the morning. Spivey said that a light was burning in the room at the Wolcott home, where Kirk roomed when he passed the corner at Seventh and Harrison.

According to the witness, Kirk called him over the phone a few days after the arrest, and told him that if he would not testify that it was 1:15 it would be worth $25 to him. Spivey said he refused and was

TRIBUTE PAID TO SOLDIERS' MEMORY

Funerals Are Held Sunday Afternoon For Private Oval Green and Sergt. Elbert Cox

BOTH KILLED IN ACTION

Indianapolis Marines Honorary Pallbearers at Green Funeral—Legion Posts Take Part

Funeral services at which tribute was made to the memory of the soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war, were held Sunday afternoon for Sergeant Elbert Cox in this city and Private Oval Green southwest of Milroy, both Rush county soldiers who were killed in action in France.

The American Legion participated in both services, a firing squad being used over the graves of their departed comrades as a part of the Legion's burial ritual. Pilot Fawcett, former U. S. flier, who has been here with an airplane for several days, dropped a wreath on Sergt. Cox's grave during the ceremony.

Six members of the Marine Corps from Indianapolis acted as honorary pallbearers at the funeral of Private Green, who enlisted with the Marines in Indianapolis in June, 1917, and served with them, until November, 1918, when he was killed at the battle of Soissons, one of the last fought before the armistice was signed.

Private Green's case was one of the saddest of the war. He was first reported missing in action and his parents were kept in suspense for many months before they learned what his real fate had been.

The services over the remains of Private Green were held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Green, two miles southwest of Milroy. The Rev. Clyde S. Black, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church of this city, conducted the services at the house, and was assisted by the Rev. L. E. Brown, pastor of the Main Street Christian church of this city, and the Rev. R. R. Cross, pastor of the Milroy Methodist church.

Practically the whole Milroy community turned out en masse for the services. Former soldiers of Milroy and vicinity, who belong to the Milroy post of the American Legion, attended in full uniform and six acted as pallbearers. A firing squad in charge of Bonnel Boring, assisted by other members of the post, conducted the Legion's service at the grave. The Odd Fellows lodge of Milroy also performed its ritual service at the cemetery.

Special music was provided at the services at the house by Mrs. Derby Green and Mrs. Carl F. Beher of this city.

The Rev. Reno Tacoma, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted the services for Sergt. Cox at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cox, in North Spencer street. A large crowd assembled for the services, members of the local post of the Legion, in the uniforms of soldiers, sailors and marines, attending in a body. Former soldiers acted as pallbearers.

Music was provided at the services by Mrs. Rena Tacoma and Mrs. Clifford Steffy, Mrs. Roy Saunders playing the accompaniment. A detachment of former soldiers headed by a former marine, soldier and

EMERGENCY TARIFF PASSED

House Approves Conference Report Adjusting Differences Today

Washington, May 23.—Congress finally approved the emergency tariff bill today.

Action necessary to send the bill to President Harding was taken by the house when it approved the conference reports adjusting senate and house differences over the measure.

President Harding is expected to sign the bill. Passage of the bill completes the first step of the republican revenue and tariff program.

Today was the second time the bill has passed congress. Former President Wilson having vetoed it at the last session.

OUTPUT, NOT THE OUTFIT TRUE TEST

Dr. W. S. Bovard Says Men Can't Build Fine Church Organization and Watch Wheels go Around

DISTRICT RALLY HELD HERE

Twenty-Five Methodist Men's Bible Classes Send Delegations—Sunday School Secretary Speaks

Twenty-five of the Methodist men's Bible classes of the Connersville district, Indiana conference, were represented by delegations at the rally of men's classes held here Sunday afternoon at the city park coliseum. The principal address of the afternoon, which was an inspirational appeal to men of the church to take advantage of their present opportunity, was delivered by Dr. W. S. Bovard, secretary of the Sunday school board of the church.

Other things which conflicted kept many men away, but the attendance was most gratifying to Dr. J. M. Walker of this city, the district superintendent, who arranged the rally. There were many visitors besides members of men's classes and many Rushville people not members of the Methodist church, were in attendance.

A roll call of the men's classes of the district was read and in response to the name of their class, the representatives stood up, in many instances singing a verse of a hymn. There were several large delegations of women from cities and towns in the district.

Dr. Bovard attempted to awaken the men to their responsibility.

"The church must be tested by its output, not its outfit," he asserted. "It is not the church work but the work of the church which counts. You can't build a fine church organization and then sit down and watch the wheels go around. We test a church in the terms of the total uplift of the moral and spiritual values of the whole community."

At the beginning of his address Dr. Bovard said he was not surprised yet he was delighted at the response to the call of the district leader.

"I may whisper to you," he continued, "that the Connersville district has a prominent place among the districts of the Methodist church."

Dr. Bovard pointed out that during the war, there was much speculation as to what factor would win the war. Some said it would be the U-boat, others the aircraft, still others the tank, and there was a group who believed food would win the war.

"And so it went," the speaker recalled. "But after the war is all over, we know what proved to be the decisive factor. It was manpower which achieved the great victory. Now what was true of the war is also true in the battle with the forces of evil. It will be the manpower mobilized for good which will be victorious."

"America has been accused of being materialistic," he went on. "We are called gold-worshippers, but I believe it is an unwarranted slander. It is true America represents the greatest material wealth on earth. It is not possible to express it in figures. But the development of material prosperity is not an end within itself. It is merely a step in the process of developing the greatest type of manhood and womanhood in the world."

"We hope to reach a loftier height of character and culture than the world has ever seen through the transmutation of the material accumulation, the increment called wealth, into character."

"If we could all realize the responsibility of wealth," Dr. Bovard said, "we would be nearer the goal of Christianity, universal brotherhood. I wish that we might see that the transmuting of material values into character values is the chief business of the church and that for this reason the church must have men who are engaged during the week in business."

"They are the very people we must introduce into the character factories, the home and the church and the school, so their output in human re-

LOCAL PEOPLE AT REUNION OF SINGERS

John A. Spurrier Takes Part in Directing Singers at Annual Meeting in Morristown

ATTENDANCE IS LARGE

Many people from Rushville attended the annual meeting of the Missouri Harmony Singers at Morristown Sunday. The attendance and interest in the event was reported to be greater than in many years recently. Over seventy members of the old singing class were present.

John A. Spurrier, precentor of the Rush County Diapason Singers association, took a leading part in directing the singing Sunday. Mrs. Sofia Hargrove of Morristown and Will Hargrove also had a part in leading the singing. Mrs. Ida Lee of this city gave a reading and also made a short talk. Another interesting number on the program was a solo by little Catherine Wamsley of this city. O. P. Wamsley, her father, played the accompaniment for her song, which was very much appreciated.

Four members of the class have died since the last reunion. C. C. Chester of Des Moines, Iowa, being among the number. He had led the class for many years.

Theopolis Hargrove of Morristown was elected president of the organization, Mrs. Richards was elected vice-president, and Mrs. Charles Lock of Morristown, secretary-treasurer. The meeting was held at the Methodist church.

EFFICIENCY IS HARDING'S AIM

President Outlines Ideal to be Attained Even at Risk of Offending Certain Politicians

SPEAKS IN NEW YORK TODAY

Tells Academy of Political Science Government Must be Put on a Business Basis

(By United Press)
New York, May 23.—Ruthless efficiency at Washington even at the risk of offending a certain class of politicians was the ideal President Harding set for himself in an address before the Academy of Political Science here today.

The government must be conducted under a strictly business method, the president said, adding that he well knew that in so doing he would lose a good deal of immediate loyalty on the part of a certain class of politicians.

He scored the confusion and red tape at Washington, declaring that the humblest household similarly conducted would meet with financial disaster.

"Stoney-hearted devotion" and "resolute courage" are needed to carry out this program, he admitted but instead that his administration will combat "existing inertia" at every point.

Sympathy for the professional job-holder must be sacrificed, he said.

The speech, by far the most direct and emphatic he has made since becoming president, was the result of two and one-half months experience as chief executive.

"Too much stress can not be laid on the fact that eternal vigilance is the price of economy and efficiency," he said.

The president told of the special committee on reorganization of executive departments which is at work under his personal representative, mapping out a program of efficiency, and added that he had meantime issued executive orders directing immediate changes so far as are in his province.

L. E. Brown Points Out Marks of Manhood in Baccalaureate Address to Graduating Class

WORLD FAILURE WITHOUT MEN

No Characteristics Worth While, He Says, Without Moral Fiber—Service Rendered Final Test

The marks of manhood were outlined by the Rev. L. E. Brown in an address at the Main Street Christian church Sunday night when the annual baccalaureate services were held. The minister made a dramatic plea for an answer to the world call for men in the reconstruction period.

The five marks of manhood referred to by the speaker were physical fitness, intelligence, persistence, good morals and the ability to forge ahead.

The members of the high school graduating class attended the services in a body, accompanied by members of the high school faculty and the city school board. Other ministers of the city participated in the service.

The greatest of manhood in all its majesty was described by the speaker, who declared that the universal quest down through the ages had been for men. He recalled the story of Diogenes who lighted a lantern and set forth for a man.

"The wondrous world was perfected with infinite skill," said the Rev. Mr. Brown. "All is a stupendous failure without man. God created man in his own image and man stepped upon the stage of action to perform his mission."

The speaker referred to some of the outstanding men of history, men who had assumed leadership and had performed a great service for the world, such as Abram, Moses, David, John, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. The Rev. Mr. Brown also referred to the leaders in the world war, both statesmen and military, and pointed out how the manhood of the world had met the test when the hateful arrogance of aristocracy and the menace of militarism had threatened democracy.

"When the call came to arms," he continued, "millions of men sparing to battle. Two millions of your sons answered the call, many

MACHINES COLLIDE ON MAIN STREET HILL

John Rickers Sustains Severe Wound on Face When His Car Hits James Hollingsworth's

BLINDED BY LIGHT, HE SAYS

An automobile driven by James Hollingsworth, a tenant on Roscoe Tittsworth's farm southeast of Rushville, was struck by a machine driven by John Rickers on the Main street hill just north of the C. I. & W. crossing, Saturday evening about eight-thirty o'clock, and both machines were badly damaged.

None of the occupants of either machine were hurt, except Rickers, who sustained a bad flesh wound on his face. The force of the impact threw him against the steering wheel, causing the cut. Hollingsworth was accompanied by his wife and children.

Hollingsworth was on the right side of the street and Rickers swerved over and struck his machine, which was going south. Rickers said that the lights of the Hollingsworth car blinded him and he could not see where he was going. There were machines parked on both sides of the street.

One front tire on each automobile blew out, causing loud reports which soon attracted a crowd. The front spring on the Rickers car was broken and the steering rods badly bent. The fenders on both machines were damaged and both front axles were bent. The radiator on Hollingsworth's car was punctured.

who were here Wednesday night, and it is the belief among the officials that these young men also took the Staida machine on that night, as it was found abandoned in Indianapolis the next day.

The men, however, denied any connection with the Staida machine, but admitted that they were here with the girls last Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights.

A coincidence is noted in the fact that the machine belonging to the Danville man was a Buick Six, which also was the same style as the one belonging to Ernest Staida. The license number on the Danville car license number on the Danville car

All Changed

The old song, "Let a Little Sunshine In", seems to have been changed to "Sneak a Little Moonshine In". Which leads to the observation that keepers of little moonshine inns are going to have more and more trouble. When the liquor traffic was "legal" it was the most unlawful thing in the whole country. Just as the liquor men brought about prohibition, the bootlegger is going to bring about its enforcement. All evil is auto-destructive if given plenty of time. —Farm Life of them to lay down their lives, because they were men.

"In the reconstruction era, dedicated to justice and fraternity, you stand at the dawn of a new age, and now as in the days of diogenes, the world needs men".

The speaker then called attention to five requirements of a man to play a part in the world. It is essential that man be physically strong, the Rev. Mr. Brown said. He recalled the rude awakening America had had when such a large percentage of the men of draft age were rejected during the war due to physical defects, and also pointed to the physical defects in the school children of the nation.

The Rev. Mr. Brown said that clean manhood was a necessary part of being physically fit. He asserted that 197,000 soldiers were disqualified overseas by sex diseases and that at one time 17,000 American soldiers lay wounded in a hospital, not from bullets but from immoral diseases.

"Indiana spends $5,000 a day to maintain its hospitals", continued the speaker, "because young men do not realize their bodies belong to God".

"God measures men not by inches but by inspiration; not by clothes but by character. Physical prowess is not the mark of manhood. Some of the greatest men of history were small in stature".

The Rev. Mr. Brown pointed out that George Washington could throw a stone farther than any man of his day, but that he was not set down in history because of his ability to throw.

The speaker pointed out that the second mark of manhood is intelligence, the thing which makes him master over all. It is the mind of man, he said, which takes the crude material and turns it into use.

The Rev. Mr. Brown declared that the third mark of manhood was that he was a pathfinder of the world. It is man who has solved the problems of the world in the past and who will continue to solve them he said, and he recalled the great inventions which had been evolved by men because of their seeking after new and undiscovered things.

The fourth mark of manhood, the Rev. Mr. Brown called persistence. He said that a man must have cause and then stick to it. He recalled that Webster was thirty-six years completing the dictionary that Savanarola was regarded as a failure after his first sermon and that Disraeli sat down in disgrace after his maiden speech in the house of commons.

The fifth mark of manhood to which the Rev. Mr. Brown called attention was the moral character. "Man may have all of these characteristics I have mentioned", the minister said, "but without the moral fibre he is not a man. We may as well burn down our school buildings and turn out our school teachers if we are not giving moral tone to our children in our public schools."

The Rev. Mr. Brown said the last mark of manhood is the service which he renders to the world.

"This is the acid test", he asserted. "Are you going to help solve life's problem? Are you going to make the world a better place in which to live? Or are you going to be satisfied to let well enough alone?"

FOREST WEEK IS BEING OBSERVED

Indiana Along With All Other States Started Forest Protection Week Yesterday—Ends Next Saturday

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION

Purpose is to Protect Trees and For The Preservation of Forest Lands, —Law on The Subject—

Indianapolis, May 23.—Indiana along with every other state in the union today started observing "Forest Protection Week."

The week starting yesterday and ending next Saturday was proclaimed by President Harding as a period devoted to the protection of trees and the preservation of forest lands.

Although the state owns no large forest tracts the department of conservation is urging the people of Indiana to protect the forest lands which still exist.

Before the logging crews, the lumbermen of the U. S. became aware of the fine hardwood which grew in Indiana the state had earned a reputation as one of the states growing the finest hardwood in the country.

The 1921 session of the Indiana legislature enacted a law which makes it punishable by fine for anyone to set fire or burn any wood or timber which is not his or her property.

The state department of conservation is attempting to have persons who now own forest land unfit for agricultural purposes reforestate the lands.

William A. Guthrie, chairman of the state conservation commission, in a bulletin issued today appealed to Indiana people to co-operate in observance of Forest Protection Week.

Mr. Guthrie cited attention to recent legislation permitting classification of certain timber lands and their assessment next year at $1 per acre. He pointed out the object of this law was not to exempt agricultural land, but to induce owners of unfertile and waste land to put such idle acres to work growing trees.

"Indiana has been prodigal of its once vast timber resources," said Mr. Guthrie. "Logging and timber crews robbed our commonwealth of one of its richest legacies. We of this generation are confronted with a timber shortage and the nation today faces a housing famine due to timber depletion, excessive railroad rates and exorbitant prices of all lumber. It is perilous to think the next generation will need less timber. While our wealth has increased our timber has vanished. Deam raises the question, 'is it real wealth we are enjoying or merely a conversion of our patrimony?' Indiana has taken the right step, through legislation to reclaim and perpetuate its timber stocks, and all thinking, patriotic citizens should co-operate to the end this commonwealth produce sufficient timber for its uses. Forest fires are the greatest menace to growing timber. There should be universal action to stop the appalling waste by this source."

BAD BACK TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor!

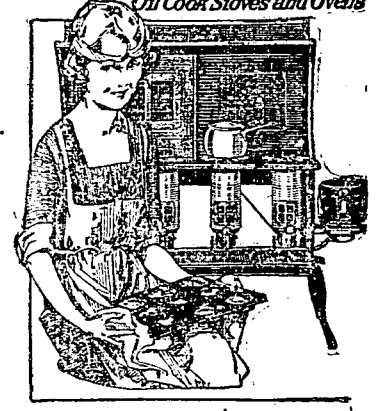

Mrs. Joseph Doll, 521 W. 3rd St., Rushville says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for two or more years when I was troubled with kidney complaint. I have found them to be a very reliable remedy. At times my back was very weak and lame and I would have to remain in bed. My back would ache intensely through the small part. My kidneys were very irregular in action, too. Every time I have been this way I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and never have they failed to relieve me."

Mrs. Doll gave the above statement August 26, 1915 and on November 1, 1920, she added: "I still have the same high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills that I had several years ago. I use them occasionally as a kidney tonic and get satisfactory results."

NOTICE

For the improvement of a highway in Noble Township, Rush County, Indiana.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in the office of the undersigned, Auditor of Rush County, Indiana, for the grading, draining and paving of a certain highway in Noble Township, Rush County, Indiana, which is in the words and figures as follows, to-wit:

State of Indiana, Rush County, SS: TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, RUSH COUNTY, INDIANA:

The undersigned resident freeholders and voters of Noble Township, Rush County, Indiana, in which Township there is neither an incorporated town or city, and being more than fifty in number of said voters and freeholders, would very respectfully represent to your Honorable Board that there is now and has been for more than fifty years last past a public highway in said Township described and located as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the southwest corner of Section Thirty-three (33), Township Thirteen (13), North, Range Eleven (11) East, and running thence north on the line between Sections Thirty-two (32) and Thirty-three (33) and the line between Sections Twenty-eight (28) and Twenty-nine (29), all in said Township and Range to the northwest corner of the southwest quarter of said Section Twenty-eight (28), Township Thirteen (13), Range Eleven (11).

Your petitioners ask that said above described highway be drained, graded and paved to the width of thirty (30) feet as now laid out and established and that it be improved by paving with gravel or crushed stone with a top dressing of stone screenings. And represent to your Honorable Board that when so drained, graded and paved the same will be of public utility.

We would further show that all of said highway asked to be improved lies wholly in said Noble Township, said County and State, and that the same is less than three miles in length, to-wit: One and one-half miles, and connects the Earl Beaver Road with the C. M. George Road, both being established and improved highways and that there is a rural mail route over said highway which at times is nearly impassible.

Respectfully submitted, (Signed) Mart Beaver and 67 Others.

Said petition will be presented to the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, on Monday, the 6th day of June, 1921.

PHIL WILK, Auditor, Rush County, Indiana DONALD L. SMITH, Attorney for Petitioners. MAY 16, 23.
